WELCOME TO REVELSTOKE.
Here, you earn it.
You’ve come further, reached deeper, wanted more.
Because here, adventure is real.
But the rewards? Unreal.
Cut from wood and blasted from rock.
Connected by steel and bonded by people.
This place has always been more than just a stopover.
This is the definitive mountain destination.
This is #TheRealStoke.

Revelstoke is the gateway to serious mountains, nestled into spectacular rainforests. Neither too remote nor too accessible, getting here is part of the adventure.

Air: Land in either Calgary or Kelowna. There’s ground transfer between Kelowna International Airport and Revelstoke.

Bus: The Stoke Shuttle provides multiple daily shuttle bus transfers from Kelowna International Airport to Revelstoke, book your seat at EverythingRevelstoke.com. Rider Express Transportation services Vancouver to Calgary daily, check out RiderExpress.ca for a schedule.

Car: Revelstoke is 4.5 hours from Calgary and 6.5 hours from Vancouver on the Trans-Canada Highway. Budget for extra driving time in the winter, and book ahead to get winter tires on your rental vehicle. Winter tires are mandatory on BC highways October to April. Check Drivebc.ca for planned events and road conditions.

While in Revelstoke: The Revelstoke Public Transit Service provides four routes across town. Pick up a rider’s guide or purchase a bus pass at City Hall. In winter, the Resort Shuttle will pick you up throughout town and deliver you gleefully to and from Revelstoke Mountain Resort. Many accommodations include free shuttle passes with your stay, be sure to ask. Local taxi service is also available.

Drive into Mount Revelstoke National Park on the Meadows in the Sky Parkway. The paved road begins in lush evergreen forests of hemlock and white pine; delivering you first to Beaver Lodge Kids Bike Park, then the Nels Nelsen exhibit—where ski jumping world records were once set. You can literally step into “Nels’ Knickers,” an interactive sculpture that lets you lean into the air like a ski jumper. From here, wander into Inspiration Woods or cruise the Soren Sorensen trails.

Further East on Hwy 1, visit the Giant Cedars and Skunk Cabbage Boardwalks, or explore railway history along easy trails in Rogers Pass National Historic Site.

Saunter through high alpine meadows with spectacular mountain vistas at the top of Mount Revelstoke National Park. As the forest gives way to moss and heather, lingering ice and snow frame impressive quartzite walls in the distance. Hike the Balsam Lake, Eagle Knoll, Koo Koo Sint, Heather Lake, or First Footsteps trails for a solid introduction to the area.

For a bigger itinerary, step up your stride in Glacier National Park with a visit to Marion Lake. Follow the steep trail up Avalanche Crest along treeless slopes offering views of glaciated peaks ringing in rocky harmony.

Graduate from the meadows in Mount Revelstoke National Park onto Miller and Eva Lakes, a farther 5.5km and 6km out. Want more? Continue another 3.5km from Miller out to Jade Lakes—a trail runner’s dream circuit.

In Glacier National Park, the famously steep Hermit Trail offers spectacular mountain views and, if you have mountaineering skills, quick access to good climbing and scrambling opportunities on peaks such as Mount Tupper, Hermit Mountain, Mount Rogers and Swiss Peak.

NATIONAL PARKS HIKING MAP:
Pick up yours for free from the Revelstoke Visitor Centre or visit our website.
Downtown Revelstoke’s Greenbelt River Trails are as short or as long as you want to make them. With easy in and out points all along the way, these paths are also home to roughly 60 species of beautiful birds for watching.

You can also visit Sutherland Falls in Blanket Creek Provincial Park. It’s a 5 minute walk to a 60 ft. chute of cascading water that brave kayakers sometimes take a puckering plunge down. Enjoy them cozily from dry land!

For another impressive wall of tumbling water, wind your way down Highway 23 South for 8km until you get to the parking lot with a trail head sign for Begbie Falls Recreation Trail. Traverse through the mossy forest of giant trees for 3km until you get to the recreation site. It’s a short, steep hike onto the falls from here. After you take in the mist, get some sun and an unfiltered view of the Selkirk Mountains down on the pebble beach along the Upper Arrow Lake Flats.

Want more? Head to Revelstoke Mountain Resort and explore 23km of lift accessed hiking trails serving up incredible views of the surrounding peaks.

There’s no more iconic peak in Revelstoke than Begbie, with its soaring double summits bursting out of a glacier aproned around it. Named for a famous 19th century judge with a stiff upper lip, this mountain is serious. The trail is steep with outstanding and rewarding views, which only come after several hours of hiking. Once you reach the campsite where the vistas begin in the alpine, you’ll need mountaineering skills to carry on any farther. There’s a glacier to cross and an exposed scramble to the top.

Short on time but still craving adventure? Local guiding companies offer heli hiking tours to alpine areas throughout the region.

#THEREALSTOKE
Take your young ones to Beaver Lodge Kids Bike Park near the bottom of Mount Revelstoke National Park. Its creative animal-themed features will have imaginations flying as kids roll over salamander tails and between fake animal droppings. Grownups can head over to Mount MacPherson's Griffith Creek beginner loops, where the low-angle “brown pow” is smooth and inviting. While you’re there try out Miller Time - a new 1km multi-directional loop built to accommodate adaptive bikes and beginners.

MacPherson’s Flowdown is the buffest trail around and will keep you swooping for a solid morning with all sorts of possible linkups and add-ons. For a longer version of the same with an alpine backdrop, carry on to Frisby Ridge. The 12km out-and-back (24 km return) cross-country trail traces a near perfect ridge at incredibly civilized grades to a grassy alpine lake. If you’ve still got juice, hammer another 5.7 km on the extension, blasting up and back down snaky berms and rolling landscape. Back at the parking lot, the Ultimate Frisby Connector is a tempting downhill add-on but, take note, it gets full-on by the time you hit the Ultimate Frisby DH trail.

Revelstoke Mountain Resort’s inaugural lift assisted trail, Fifty Six Twenty takes you on a long roller coaster of blue flow with seemingly endless jumps and berms. Take the gondola up to start a 7km climb, then let the fun begin with 15km of machine-built trail running the full vertical of 5,620 ft. The Resort has plans to open more lift accessed trails for Summer 2020.

Boulder Mountain is Revelstoke’s classic downhill playground. It’s got everything from bike-park style flow and lofty table tops to wooden stunts and loamy steeps. With over a dozen trails, you can easily pick your poison. While it’s mostly a shuttling area, there are mellower trail options in the mix, and many enduro riders choose to pedal up the road.

For a thigh-crushing cross-country epic, drive Highway 23 North to Keystone. This 11km (22km return) technical out-and-back trail has punchy climbs and tight switchbacks up alpine cirques. The demanding alpine route links awe-inspiring views of the Monashee Mountains with some of the most rewarding sections of alpine singletrack in BC. There is no cell service, so full backcountry protocols are in order—be prepared!

TRAIL KARMA - DONATE TO YOUR LOCAL VOLUNTEERS
The Revelstoke Cycling Association manages a world-class network of over 150 kilometres of trails. Our mission is to improve and promote cycling in Revelstoke by developing cycling trails and infrastructure, organizing events and programs, building the cycling community, and advocating and educating in support of cycling in Revelstoke. We are a volunteer-run organization with a paid maintenance crew that relies on donations from people like you.

If you’re riding Revelstoke, please make a donation so we can continue to maintain and build trails.

2. Earn Trail Karma by donating at trailforks.com/karma/
Take Westside Road 10km north of downtown Revelstoke to find the trail system, where there are kiosks with maps at each riding zone. Kids and beginners can warm up on the beginner track, trail-bound full-sized humans can head towards Kick Start and Easy Street. Want to check out the action before deciding if you’re into trying it? There’s a handy viewing platform to spy the scene.

To start, dig into Ego Trip in the Lower Frisby zone, then work your way up and onto the Deadman’s Creek network for a total of 75km of purpose-built moto trails to work through. Follow the Yellow Brick Road on your journey towards the techy stuff and catch glimpses of glassy Lake Revelstoke shining below.

Get your heart pumping on the full-sized motocross track—sending floaty doubles, long tables and poppy step-ups to your heart’s content. Then ride over to Rowlands Revenge, the relentless tacky loop climbs high above the lake to some of the best views going—if you’re not busy whiskey-gripping your bars!

REVVY RIDERS DIRTBIKE CLUB - Did you enjoy your ride?
The Revy Riders Dirtbike Club depends on membership fees to maintain and build our trails and tracks. All money collected goes directly towards maintenance and further development. If you’ve never been in a helicopter, there’s no better place to experience unfettered flight. Cover miles in minutes and get an unequalled perspective. Hover comfortably over Wap Lake or the Revelstoke Dam, buzz over the Upper Arrow Lake Flats, swoop by waterfalls, rivers, and even tumbling glaciers. It’s a frickin’ helicopter, you can go anywhere!

It’s time for that tandem paraglide flight you’ve always talked about. Starting from 2,200 metres above sea level, sail off Mount Mackenzie, the highest launch in North America. All pilots are certified by the Hang Gliding and Paragliding Association of Canada. Tandem flights are open to all ages, you don’t need any previous experience, and you can do it year round.

Experienced flyers can bring their own wings and launch off the top of Revelstoke Mountain Resort, reaping the thermal currents born from the river valley below. For safety, please be sure to brush up on the rules and local beta at Revelstokeparagliding.com.

THE BEST SEAT IN THE HOUSE.

Take a tandem paraglide flight over the Columbia River, or land on a remote mountain peak with a helicopter tour.

If you’re quite green, we recommend taking a lesson or hiring a guide to show you the ropes. Otherwise, pick up a copy of the Revelstoke Rocks guidebook by Ruedi Beglinger from one of the outdoor stores downtown. He’s the guy that first established many of the climbs in the area, and his book remains the best resource to this day. Next, head 10 minutes down Highway 23 South to Begbie Bluffs, with awesome single-pitch sport-climbing options for kids, beginners and even first climbing dates. The crag is a short walk on a well-defined trail from the parking lot. Start with High & Dry or Bifacial Retouch (5.8 and 5.9 respectively).

Shaketown is a little farther down the highway from Begbie Bluffs, with a further plethora of single-pitch intermediate routes, like Quicksilver Daydreams (5.10b), Two Hands (5.11a), and Flying Shoes (5.11b). To start on some multi-pitch, drive another 10 minutes down the highway to the shady and river-cooled Blanket Creek Canyon and walk 10 minutes to Blanket Buttress. Next, crimp and heel hook your way up the Blanket Arête (5.10a), or Tree Line (5.10c) and keep building from there.

Waterworld may be a mediocre movie, but it’s a mind-blowing climbing wall. To tag the towering cliffs rising right out of Lake Revelstoke, you first rappel down to belay stations made of planks bolted to the wall. Choose from two to four pitches as you work your way back up routes ranging from 5.10b to 5.12a, these are longer climbs. Start on Pirates of Waterworld (5.10b) and No Panic In The Titanic (5.11b) and eye up other routes from there. Remember to watch for rock fall, and to wear a helmet even when belaying.

WANT MORE INFO? Check out the Rock Climbing page on our website.

FROM SPORT TO TRAD, SINGLE PITCH TO MULTI, COME HANG ON OUR ROCK AND FIND YOUR FLOW.

Routes ranging from 5.8 to 5.13a.

REVELSTOKE CLIMBERS ACCESS SOCIETY
An active group of local climbers volunteer their time to keep Revelstoke a safe and enjoyable climbing experience. If you come across any safety issues or problems among the crags of Revelstoke you can report them to the RCAS via their website. If you enjoy climbing our cliffs and crags consider donating to the RCAS, all donations go towards operations and maintenance.

Big, flat, and glassy. Lake Revelstoke is prime for an easy kayak, stand-up paddleboard, or canoe tour. It’s perfectly cool on a warm summers day! Tours meander into coves and adjoining river systems that make up the major dividing waters of the Monashee and Selkirk Mountains. Go to Martha Creek Provincial Park for lunch along the pebbly beach or to lay on the grass. For the warmest water, hit up Williamson Lake back in town, with a sandy beach, playground, and mini putt.

If you’re comfortable navigating without a guide, rent a canoe or kayak for yourself. Lake Revelstoke, the Columbia River, or Upper Arrow Lake are all dotted with hidden waterfalls and inlets around every bend. Be aware when shimmying into colder waters, fluctuating water levels due to the dams, and watch for anglers and power boaters.

If you’re a whitewater kayaker, Revelstoke is full of frothy runs. There’s everything from the class II section of the Lower Jordan to the roaring class IV-V sections of the Illecillewaet’s Box Canyon. You can also check out the Upper Jordan, and the Pingston River. For the very bold, Blanket Creek’s iconic 60-foot Sutherland Falls offers all the airtime you could want.

HOME OF THE LONGEST RUNNING GOLF TOURNAMENT IN BC.

The tree-lined, 18-hole Revelstoke Golf Course will woo experienced swingers and newcomers alike.

Following Revelstoke’s famous “big eddy” along the curve of the Columbia River, the course is lined with giant trees nourished by temperate waters. “First Tracks” golfers will breathe in an evergreen aroma mixed with freshly cut fairways in the morning mists of the Monashee and Selkirk Mountains. Get 18 holes in casually over 3.5 hours to free up the hottest hours of the day, or linger longer by playing an extra round and hitting the restaurant in the club house. Improve your swing by signing up with one of the PGA of Canada Pros the course has on staff. Work on your precision at the full-length driving range with both synthetic and real-grass tees and down in their practice bunker. Once you’re all tuned up, the Revelstoke Golf Course hosts the oldest tournament in the province every September: The Labour Day Classic.

Revelstoke Golf Course
One of BC’s most beautiful golf courses.
This historic 18-hole, par 72, 6537 yard championship layout provides an excellent golfing challenge, and is conveniently located just minutes off the Trans-Canada Highway. Situated on a peninsula surrounded by stunning mountain views, golfing in Revelstoke is as much about the location as it is about the game.

ANGLERS CAN CHOOSE FROM OVER 80 LAKES AND OTHER RICH WATERWAYS TO CAST INTO.

There are over 200 rivers, creeks, and streams churning with freshwater fish around Revelstoke. All within 50 km (31 mi) of town.

If you don’t have a BC fishing license, start by picking one up at Service BC in the Revelstoke Courthouse, or online at www.fishing.gov.bc.ca. Once you’re legal, aim for one of the quiet corners of Williamson Lake just five minutes south of town. The small 3.9-hectare local fishing hole has been regularly stocked with rainbow trout since 2009. If you want to snag some giant bull trout too, you’ll want to be on Upper Arrow Lake, Lake Revelstoke, or Kinbasket Lake in early spring or late fall for open-water trolling. The bigger lakes have big fetches and can pick up strong winds, so be sure to keep an eye on the weather. In mid-summer and early fall (prime time!), fish for cutthroat and rainbow trout with dry flies, nymphs, and little spinners. You can catch the odd bull as it swims up river to spawn, too. Always remember to only use barbless hooks.

RIVER ADVENTURES FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY.

From scenic floats to adrenaline-pumping rapids.

The Illecillewaet (pronounced ill-a-sill-a-wet) is a glacier-fed river that begins in Glacier National Park and snakes its way through the Selkirk Mountains to its confluence with the Columbia River in Revelstoke. Apex Rafting and Wild Blue Yonder both run trips on this river. Take in lush scenery and shore-side wildlife from the unique vantage; and hold on tight through the big waves. The biggest rapids come in high water, from mid-June into mid-July. Low water starts in late July, and allows for a few more stops, swims, and gentler floats along the way. Minimum requirements for kids vary during high water, so check with the rafting companies. If you want a float tailored to them, check out the River Pirates theatre adventure, or the historic float from Wild Blue Yonder on the Columbia River.
APEX RAFTING
Our 28th year on this river. Consistent ownership since day one.

Apex Rafting has been synonymous with rafting in Revelstoke since 1993. Rated 5 Stars on Facebook, Google and Trip Advisor our focus has always been your safety and enjoyment on this beautiful and exhilarating rafting trip. Up to 26km on the river with lots of great rapids, scenic floats and stunning views. Truly a fantastic trip.

- All equipment provided
- Riverside fresh fruit and pastries
- Rafting trip photos free of charge

RMR is the only resort in the world to offer lift, cat, heli, and backcountry skiing.

The Resort’s new Stellar Chair accessed from the top of the gondola is the perfect learning zone for both kids and grown-ups, providing access to wide open, mellow grade green runs named Big Bend, Over Easy and Bacon & Eggs. If your legs still have some gusto left, The Last Spike is a long green run spanning the length of the mountain from the top of the Stoke Chair to the Village Base.

RMR has some of the longest highways of corduroy on the planet. Make the top pitches of Snow Rodeo, Feller Buncher, and Wooley Bully your first foray, all of them cross back over the Last Spike if you need to dip out. Switch it up by meandering over to the Ripper Chair, where the grooming’s just as delectable and you can segue into some low-angle glades. If those seem easy, dive into Separate Reality off the top of the Stoke Chair.

Everyone’s gunning for it on a powder day: North Bowl. Once patrol drops the rope, traverse skier’s right from the top of the Stoke Chair for the lower entry points, or bootpack the Lemming Line into the upper chutes, where you’ll also find the track over to Gracias Ridge and Greely Bowl. For the highest point on the mountain, take the bootpack straight up to Sub Peak’s tight couloirs, or funnel back down Powder Assault into the upper reaches of North Bowl.

A MECCA FOR EARNING YOUR TURNS.

There’s more Gore-Tex per capita in Revelstoke than anywhere else in Canada. With unequaled access to big mountains and deep snow, this place thrives on a culture of going up to get down.

If you’re really new to it, hire a local guide. There are tons of amiable mountain maestros ready to safely show you the goods. If you’ve got the basics under your belt, including an avalanche safety training (AST) course, and you want to venture out into some simple terrain, aim for The Fingers on Mount MacPherson. The short laps hold a big payoff in fluffy, open runs you can lap over and over. To get there, park at the Nordic Ski Club Lodge for five dollars and follow the Main Loop to Mountain Climb Trail, then turn left at the sign. The Nordic trail ends at a bridge crossing, and the uphill track starts from here.

Want a bit more than the basics? Make sure you’ve tuned into the bulletin on Avalanche.ca. Next, aim for the terrain surrounding Revelstoke Mountain Resort. The easily accessible backcountry offers everything from deliriously deep trees to complex alpine ridges and couloirs. While many of the runs funnel back inbounds, watch out in the woods; the subalpine turns into a dense jungle around RMR, so be sure you know where you’re going and have good communication between partners. If you’re unfamiliar with the area, play it safe and register for a guided backcountry tour with the Resort.

Rogers Pass in Glacier National Park is a Shangri-La for strong ski tourers and ski mountaineers. Stop in at the Rogers Pass Discovery Centre to make sure you know what’s open and get your permit. There are rolling closures for the highway avalanche-control program you need to pay attention to. Start off on Grizzly Shoulder or Balu Pass, and graduate to the Seven Steps of Paradise—one of the 50 classic ski descents in North America. If you’ve got glacier gear, the Asulkan and Illecillewaet valleys will lead you into the alpine over rewardingly complex terrain and onto iconic peaks. You can also stay at the Asulkan Cabin to break up the slog.

30 KM (19 MI) OF IMPECCABLY GROOMED TRAILS AT MOUNT MACPHERSON.

We’ve got world-class tracksets for classic skiing and perfectly manicured highways for skate skiing. The Nordic Centre also includes 6 km (3.75 mi) of lit trails for night time looping, and a snowshoe trail.

XC Skiing: Begin at the beautiful Mount MacPherson Nordic Lodge and follow the Mickey Olsen Loop. Connect with Evelyn’s Choice and Dynamite for a fun, quick and easy ski.

Snowshoeing: Start with a guided tour around Revelstoke Mountain Resort with the Revelstoke Snowshoe Company. Next, strike out on your own along the Greenbelt trails. From downtown, you can also follow the Mount Revelstoke Trail at the Tournament of Champions trail head behind the Revelstoke Railway Museum—it’ll take you up to the Nels Nelsen historic ski jump. The Mount MacPherson Nordic area also has a designated 4.5km snowshoe trail called Seven Bridges.

XC Skiing: Grab your pup and chase him or her around the popular 5km dog loop at the Mount MacPherson Nordic Centre. Well-mannered dog-owners and dogs only; and please remember to pick up their poop! After Rex is tuckered out, let him rest back at the car as you continue around the perimeter loop. Stride clockwise, beginning with Mickey’s Loop, then Main Loop, Loggers Lane, and Hydro Way. Come back around on Beaver Lake, Easy Al’s, and Roadway Ramble.

Snowshoeing: Seek out Begbie Falls even in the winter by parking at the beginning of Begbie Falls Forest Service Road, right where the plowed road ends. Follow the trail about 2.5km to the falls. For Sutherland Falls, park at the Blanket Creek Provincial Park gate (without blocking it) and head down the road for 2.5km through snow-draped cedars and hemlock. You can also park at the gate of Mount Revelstoke National Park and head past the Nels Nelsen Historic Site into Inspiration Woods, or the Soren Sorensen loops.

XC Skiing: Show up after dark and ski 6km (3.75 mi) of newly lit trails in the brisk calm of night. Slide farther afield with a headlamp and you can have a picnic dinner at the Ole Sandberg Cabin via the Main Loop. If you want to really crush your workout, add on Hydro Hill. Want to jump into some friendly competition? The Revelstoke Nordic Ski Club presents Headlamp Heroes, a Wednesday night race series.

Snowshoeing: Be aware of avalanche terrain and conditions, go to Avalanche.ca for more info. Next, aim for Mount Revelstoke National Park’s Summit Trail, beginning way down low at the Nels Nelsen Historic Site. It’s a 10km trip to the summit from here, mostly under the cover of an evergreen canopy. You can break off the Summit Trail at the seventh road crossing and walk 4km to the Caribou Cabin to overnight or reach it by walking a burly 20km up the Meadows in the Sky Parkway. Book the cabin through Parks Canada.

#THEREALSTOKE
WELCOME TO THE EPICENTRE OF CANADIAN MOUNTAIN SLEDDING.

From November to May, Revelstoke gets between 50 to 60 ft (31 to 37 m) of snow in the most accessible big-mountain terrain there is.

Pick up the basics and have someone else safely handle the route by booking a tour with a certified guide via a local operator. Ride single or with a partner as you safely venture farther out into the winter wilderness than you’ve ever been before.

Have avalanche equipment, know how to use it and make sure you’ve checked Avalanche.ca for the bulletin. After you do, make it over to the groomed access at Boulder and Frisby Mountains that’ll shepherd you comfortably into the alpine. Remember to pay attention to the trail fees for grooming. If you want to rent a machine or hone your skills, there are several options in town for rentals and multi-day clinics.

If you already have ninja status and just want to get kicking, aim for the expansive open ridgetops, basins and face shots waiting for you on Sale Mountain or Keystone-Standard Basin, to the north. There’s also Mount Hall, to the south. Watch out for seasonal and permanent caribou closures—they’re for real!

Download Boonmaps on your cell phone to access free trail maps that can be used along with GPS tracking while you’re out of cell service.

REVELSTOKE SNOWMOBILE CLUB
One of Canada’s oldest and largest clubs.
Revelstoke Snowmobile Club grooms a 100 km trail system on Boulder Mountain and Frisby Ridge. Both of these areas are managed and have a pay to use system. Ride with a Daily Trail Pass for $25 or purchase a yearly membership via our website. All fees go towards supporting the Snowmobile Club, an important part of Revelstoke’s community since 1968.

FOOD, DRINKS & NIGHTLIFE.

A FOOD SCENE TO SAVOUR, WITH AWARD-WINNING LOCAL CRAFT BEERS & SPIRITS.

Café your way through the day, après your way into the night.

Grab a healthy and affordable breakfast or a wrap for the trail at one of Revelstoke’s many wholesome cafés. From there, lunch and dinner options extend into an impressive array of world cuisines: Japanese, German, Thai, Chinese, Latin American, Indian, French, and fusion. If you want to keep it simple, find a warm seat in a classic pub with menus serving everything from vegetarian fare to burgers. Classy joints? We have many multi-star stops you can dust off your dinner jacket for. Wash it all down with a frosty pint of local beer or get a locally distilled cocktail at one of our breweries or distilleries in town. Hit the dancefloor after or just gab into the wee hours over a set of suds as the night life takes over. Remember, “Last call, first chair!”

DOWNTOWN.

VIBRANT, HISTORIC DOWNTOWN REVELSTOKE.

Locally owned and operated specialty stores and restaurants to meet your every need and more.

Revelstoke’s commercial character echoes its culture with a focus on health, wellness, recreation, and environment. You can shop for haute couture or Gore-Tex within a few feet, get specialty kitchen wares, find a smart shoe selection, rent a bike, buy a camping stove, peruse splitboards, book an adventure, or buy a new book. Not to mention the variety of eats. Stock up on ethically sourced self-styling products at a salon, or just lay back and enjoy the spa experience. Several storefronts showcase local arts, crafts and jewellery, which you’ll also find in spades at the downtown Farmers Market between May and October.

Since its Victorian revitalization in 1986, Revelstoke’s stood out amongst Western mountain towns as having a strong sense of heritage that it maintains to this day. Heritage walking tours are available through the Revelstoke Museum & Archives in the summer.

ARTS & CULTURE.

REVELSTOE HAS 60 NIGHTS OF FREE LIVE MUSIC DURING JULY AND AUGUST.

With a growing cultural scene primed by festivals, galleries, exhibitions and performances, discover a thriving community of mountain creatives.

From May to October, bump shoulders at the bustling Farm and Craft Markets on Mackenzie Ave as you shop for local crafts, art, and fresh food. Then, every night, Grizzly Plaza is alive with the Summer Street Fest which hosts concerts through July and August. From Celtic music to hip hop, the music spreads out in all directions. Want more? Carry on to a solid selection of other venues to find something being played live many nights of the week, year round. Or take it upscale by grabbing one of 275 seats in the Revelstoke Performing Arts Centre as it hosts speakers, concerts, theatre, dance, spoken word and independent films from fall through to spring. Also be sure to swing into the Revelstoke Visual Arts Centre on the first Friday evening of every month (March to December) where you can meet artists during exhibition opening nights.

Art + Alley = ART ALLERY.
Revelstoke’s newest public art initiative launched in 2019 aims to transform our downtown alleyways into outdoor art galleries. A legacy project by the organisers of LUNA Festival, Art Alleries revitalize dark and disused places into thriving public spaces. Go see for yourself, located on an alleyway between Connaught and Mackenzie Ave right in downtown Revelstoke.

HISTORY & HERITAGE.

JOURNEY THROUGH THE PAST AND PRESENT.

Revelstoke was founded in the 1880s when the industrious trans-continental railway first forged its way through the rugged West.

Born of ornate Victorian architecture, much of the city’s original flare survives to this day thanks to a strong mandate to preserve it. From the inception of Canadian mountain tourism to the contributions of logging and mining, it’s all a part of our heritage. Visit the art gallery and museums listed here (right) to learn how Rogers Pass became the birthplace of North American mountaineering. Stand on the historic Nels Nelsen ski jump in Mount Revelstoke National Park for a first-hand view of Revelstoke past and present. Visit the First Footsteps trail in Mount Revelstoke National Park for First Nations artwork. Stroll the Koo Koo Sint trail at the top of the park to follow in explorer David Thompson’s seminal footsteps.

TAKE TIME TO UNWIND AFTER A BIG DAY OUT.

Even the most seasoned mountain people will tell you the best way to stay in the game is to take some time to care for your body, mind, and spirit.

Soak in the healing waters of a nearby natural hot spring. Take Highway 23 South over the free ferry towards Nakusp that leaves once per hour. Halcyon Hot Springs Resort is ten minutes farther down the highway from Galena Bay. You can go for a day, evening, or stay. To mix in a bit of adventure, visit the Halfway River Hot Springs, just a little farther down the highway and a short drive up the Halfway River Forest Service Road. These are sadly not accessible by car in the winter. For more info visit: sitesandtrailsbc.ca

They say staying limber keeps you young. Hit up one of Revelstoke’s yoga studios downtown for a drop-in class, then bounce over to one of several locally owned cafés for a healthy breakfast. In the afternoon, you can drive up the Meadows in the Sky Parkway in Mount Revelstoke National Park to wander amongst the wildflowers.

During the snowy months, rent some snowshoes and stretch your legs along the Greenbelt trails, or in Mount Revelstoke National Park (see our snowshoeing section - pg 24).

Whatever you choose for the day, stay unplugged from your devices. A low-stress ski tour, mountain bike ride, or stay in a backcountry cabin or lodge is a great way to disconnect and purge the digital fuzz from your brain. Advanced yoga classes and mindfulness retreats are also available in town, and don’t skip out on getting a massage!
DISCOVER WHY REVELSTOKE IS CANADA’S REAL WONDERLAND.

From the beach to the park, the mountain coaster to the trails, people of all ages can get amongst it.

Summer: On a hot day, hit the local swimming hole at Williamson Lake. You can also send the kids rafting in costume down the cruisy Columbia River with Revelstoke River Pirates—a theatre adventure on water. West of town there’s the Enchanted Forest, the Three Valley Gap Ghost Town, or SkyTrek Adventure Park—a fantasy land of tree-top bridge and ladder works with zip lines that’ll get your grownup heart pounding, too.

Winter: Come out of your shell at Revelstoke Mountain Resort’s Turtle Creek, where there’s a magic carpet for new skiers. You can also make waves year round at the Revelstoke Aquatic Centre, with a lap pool, hot tub, sauna, steam room, lazy river, water slide, and diving board.

Summer: Mount Revelstoke National Park is prime for family time. You can drive right to the top and have a picnic in perfect alpine wilderness. When you come back down, take an afternoon snack to the meandering shoreline of Martha Creek Provincial Park on Lake Revelstoke. Its warm waters and wide-open grassy playing fields are just a quick 15-minute drive up Highway 23 North.

Winter: If you’re into starry nights and have a headlamp, you can also rent a pair of snowshoes and wander along Revelstoke’s Greenbelt River Trails. Or stay inside and cheer on the Revelstoke Grizzlies at a local hockey game, while devouring some of our best poutine.

Summer: Drop in on Revelstoke Mountain Resort’s Pipe Mountain Coaster which is always the smash hit of summer. Dash through open forest on a self-controlled downhill roller coaster and compare times at the bottom. While you’re there, be sure to swing, climb, jump and free fall your way through the Aerial Adventure Park, a four-storey ropes course and Revelstoke’s newest family attraction. If you want to take the adventure to two wheels, head to Mount MacPherson’s Stimulus, Dusty Beaver, Beaver Tail or Miller Time trails, where you can chase each other on mountain bikes for hours.

Winter: Pack a thermos of hot chocolate to the Ole Sandberg Cabin at the Mount MacPherson Nordic trails.
