ARTS & CULTURE.

LUNA Festival

Each fall, the LUNA Arts Festival lights up the town of Revelstoke as the darker nights descend. It transforms the usual into the unusual and the ordinary into the extraordinary, as the streets become a living art gallery full of installations and performances from artists across Canada. LUNA is an inclusive arts festival that started in 2017, when the festival attracted 3000 people out to experience the nocturnal art and wonder. That number almost doubled in their second year and continues to grow. In 2019, LUNA Sound, a musical component was added to the festival. We can't wait to see what they'll do next!

Visual Arts

Revelstoke's visual arts scene is blossoming. The Revelstoke Visual Arts Centre is at its epicentre, hosting visiting and local exhibitions along with workshops and classes. Big Eddy Glass Works is a must-visit spot for anyone who is interested in art. Watch the artisans blow class, participate in a workshop, and pick up an incredible Revelstoke souvenir. In downtown Revelstoke, check out the "Art Alleries" - art showcased in Revelstoke's back alleys. Swing by Art First, a cooperative selling locally made crafts and art.

ROAM

Revelstoke's Outdoor Art Movement has taken a 'guerilla' style approach to displaying art. There is no map, no press release, no information. We can tell you that you can find the various displays all over Revelstoke Mountain Resort but you'll have to keep your eyes peeled. An investigative reporter in Revelstoke caught the artsits red handed during installation and the word has spread. Read more about it here

Arts Revelstoke

Arts Revelstoke is the professional organization for Arts and Culture in Revelstoke, producing cultural events, spearheading public art projects and developing the arts and cultural scene in Revelstoke. They put on the live music every day in July and August, live performing arts shows in winter, and are the backbone of arts in Revelstoke, including the LUNA Arts Festival. Head to their website for programming.
